NEWSY ITEMS.

GATHERED FROM MANY SOURCES AND BOILED DOWN FOR THE TIMES READERS.

Local and Personal—Something About People You Know and You Don't Know.

Clay county elected a full Democratic ticket.

Some new legal "ads." in this paper read them carefully.

Mr. J. A. Owen, of Shooting Creek, was in town Monday on business.

Maj. N. B. Hill, of Union county, spent Monday night last in town.

Luther Davenport and John Johnson spent a day or two at Murphy this week.

Quite a crowd from Young Harris was here at the Normal School last Saturday.

Mr. R. S. Patton, of Warne, called on the Times Tuesday to pay off his subscription.

Mr. Dave Kimsey has accepted a position with G. Branderth who runs a saw mill near Murphy.

Mr. W. S. Owen was in the Times office Tuesday and presented the editor with some nice apples.

Sheriff Burch and Oliver Wylie went to Murphy Tuesday night and carried the election returns for the Constitution.

We have received a lot of guesses on the result of the Tate and Pickett election from both Republic and Democrats. The guesses are all in Tate's favor and range from five hundred to eight thousand.

We are in clover this week by a large majority, having received a bushel of sweet potatoes from J. L. Sims, also a bushel from A. T. Parker and a bushel of fine apples from J. W. Wren.

Mr. Dave Kimsey and "ye scribe" visited Hayesville last Saturday and found quite a number of people in town, among whom were the candidates for the various county offices making their closing speeches.

S. J. Berrong and E. C. Eller, both candidates for Tax Receiver from Hightower, were in the Times office Wednesday and expressed themselves being in favor of a primary being held for the selection of candidates for county offices.

Mr. Lochaby, father of our fellow townsman, Bart, brought the Times a nice sweet potatoes this week. A "devil" was given a dram of mountain dew by somebody and eaters until he got sick, and hence the paper is four days late.

GROVER GETS IT.

Cleveland Sweeps The Country

He Will Get 278 Votes in the Electoral College.

The following we take from The Atlanta Constitution of Wednesday morning, and present to our readers at what it is worth. We have burnt no powder over the result, and do not publish this as a political boost, but simply as a matter of news in which our many readers are deeply interested:

Whole electoral vote	444
Necessary to elect	223
Cleveland's vote	278
Harrison's vote	159
Weaver's vote	7

Thus it will be seen that if the table is correct, Cleveland has fifty-nine votes more than enough to elect. The Republicans still have a lingering hope that something will turn up to change the apparent result in Indiana, Wisconsin, Delaware and West Virginia. Suppose, therefore, for the sake of argument, that Indiana's fifteen votes are given to Harrison, and also that twelve from Wisconsin, three from Delaware and six from West Virginia, making thirty-six in all. This would still leave Cleveland with thirteen more than enough to elect. Thus, the vote of Connecticut thrown into the Harrison column for good measure, would still leave Cleveland a margin of seven votes. However it will not be necessary for the democrats to make any concession for the sake of argument as to Connecticut or West Virginia, for in any shape you take it Cleveland's election is absolutely certain.

IN THE TENTH

Watson's majorities were as follows: Glascock, 294; Lincoln, 618; Columbia, 801; McDuffie, 639; Taliaferro, 425; Warren, 675; Washington, 550; Jefferson, 469—1,471.

Major Black's majorities were: Hancock, 1,000; Wilkinson, 68; Richmond, 8,801—9,869.

Black's majority in the district 5,398.

IN THE NINTH.

Tate gets the following majorities: Gilmer, 500; Pickett, 128; Rabun, 300; Habersham, 1,000; Gwinnett, 500; Hall, 890; Milton, 293; White, 40; Towns, 225; Jackson, 400; Banks, 100; giving him a total of 4,286.

Pickett carries Cherokee by 75 and Forsyth by 150.

Thus it went in the two most exciting districts.

The News of the World Condensed Into Pithy and Pointed paragraphs.

Interesting and Instructive to All Classes of Readers.

Dispatches of Tuesday state that Democratic electors in Oregon have withdrawn in favor of populist electors.

Western Union directors, at a meeting Tuesday, decided to increase the capital stock of the company from $86,200,000 to $100,000,000.

The China Mail says Chi Yun has been appointed the next Chinese minister to the United States. He now holds the post of chief of instruction.

A New York dispatch of Tuesday says: It has been decided that Cleveland will make one more speech in New Jersey and probably one in Delaware before the election.

A bold attempt was made Monday night to burn the Star theater at Cleveland, Ohio. The fire was of incendiary origin. But little damage was done to the building.

Attorney General Miller has issued instructions to United States marshals concerning their duties at elections. He quotes Attorney General Garland's instructions in 1888.

Railroad securities belonging to the estate of the late Charles Stewart Parnell were sold in New York Tuesday, and realized $15,000. Part of the proceeds go to Parnell's widow and part to his mother.

Fire broke out in the cupola of Euclid Avenue opera house at Cleveland, O., Friday morning, from cause unknown, and that beautiful playhouse was soon in ruins. The loss will not be short of $60,000.

A London cable dispatch of Monday states that the central chamber of agriculture will discuss the question of holding a conference of delegates from all parts of the United Kingdom to discuss the depression in the agricultural industry.

Dispatches of Saturday from Detroit, Mich., states that reports of wrecks and other mishaps to shipping caused by Friday night's terrific wind storm are coming in from different points on the lakes. Considering the number of vessels blown ashore and wrecked, the loss of life is very light, only two drownings being reported thus far.

A democratic national headquarters' circular says: "Michael F. Kwyer Tuesday afternoon made one of the largest bets that is on record in this campaign. He wagered $20,000 against $12,000 that Cleveland would carry the state of New York. The short end of the bet was taken by a representative of a syndicate of Philadelphia republicans."

A New York special of Saturday says: The Wall street report of the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company for the year ended June 30, 1892, shows gross earnings of $5,944,783, a decrease of $2,566; operating expenses, $3,037,067, a decrease of $45,423; net $2,907,716, increase $45,848. Charges increased, $160,191 and surplus, $598,060; a decrease of $114,343.

A special of Sunday from Denver, Col., says: A. J. Hoverholt and Silas Hauchett, two of the electors of the Weaver ticket, have refused to permit their names to be used as the head of the Cleveland democratic ticket. Their action is embarrassing, to say the least, in view of the fact that the Clevelandites had withdrawn their electors and substituted therefor the populist electors.

A London cablegram of Monday says: The council of the Cotton Spinners' Association, in view of the threatened strike of the cotton operatives and the efforts of the mayors of Liverpool and Manchester to have the differences settled by arbitration, have resolved to decline the mayor's offer, and will not consider any proposal unless it emanates from the employees themselves.

A dispatch of Tuesday from Richmond, Ind., says: Omar L. Hittle is missing and his absence alarms his friends. A suit for $60,000 by his mother is pending against him. For years he has been his mother's agent. She demanded settlement which he did not make and the suit was filed. When Hittle left for New York, he took bonds and securities aggregating $80,000 to have cashed.

A New York dispatch of Monday says: Receivers Heidekoper and Foster give notice that coupons maturing November 1, 1892, on the Virginia Midland railway general mortgage 5 per cent bonds, Richmond York River and Chesapeake railroad second mortgage bonds and northeastern railway of Georgia first mortgage bonds will be paid at the office of Central Trust company of New York on the above named date.

Fifteen hundred students from the various colleges of Philadelphia paraded Saturday night, and shouted their college yells to their hearts, content. The pageant was proposed in defiance of the superintendent of police, who, a few days ago, issued orders that yelling on the streets must cease. It was turned into a triumphant march, however, when the superintendent of police rescinded his orders.

A Port Townsend, Wash., dispatch says: The bark, Cowlitz, sixty days from Taku, China, arrived Sunday and reported two suspicious deaths. The vessel had no papers or bill of health. On passage the second mate and one seaman were attacked with symptoms resembling Asiatic cholera, and after a brief illness died. The last death occurred in quarantine Saturday and the crew was sent to the pesthouse.

A New York dispatch says: "The electric wire men met in Clarendon hall Tuesday morning and decided upon a general strike. The walking delegates were appealed to, and a decision was reached that all the affiliated trades should be called out with the exception of tin workers and bricklayers. The delegates started out during the morning to call the union men off their jobs. It is thought the strike may affect 50,000 men."

The registration figures in New York city, according to a dispatch of Saturday are a sort of Chinese puzzle to the politicians. Both republicans and democrats says hat so far they are unable to tell what they mean. Democratic voters say that Cleveland will get a surprising majority in the city. The republicans have but little to say. The total figures for the day is 37,667, which makes a grand total of 809,830. 1888 there were registered 286,642 and last year 261,523.

At 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon two men entered Ford County bank at Spearville, Kans., and with drawn revolvers robbed Cashier Baird of $1,700. As the robbers ran out of the bank and jumped into their saddles a party of hunters came along, and learning of the bold robbery, opened fire on them. The robbers returned the fire, but no one was hurt on either side. The robbers managed to escape. It is not known whether any of them were wounded or not.

A FIGHT WITH BANDITS.

Another Mexican Row in Which a Number of Outlaws are Killed.

A New Orleans Times Democrat Calega, Mex., special Saturday, says the town of San J. Juan, fifteen miles north of thereon the Mexican National road, was the scene Saturday night of a bloody battle between a band of twelve brigands, under the leadership of the desperado and outlaw, Antonio Gallardo, and a company of government rurales of the place. The bandits rode into town about 9 o'clock Saturday night and made a raid on the general store of Richard Vendoza. They secured several hundred dollars in cash, driving the proprietor, clerks and about twenty customers into the street at the muzzles of their pistols. The rurales were given the alarm of the presence of the brigands and as the latter emerged from the store and were in the act of mounting their horses, a fusillade was opened upon them by the soldiers. Gallardo and two other members of the desperate band fell at the first volley, all three fatally wounded.

Nine other brigands returned the fire and a pitched battle then ensued, the outlaws fighting their way through the ranks of the soldiers. Six of them escaped and three were captured alive. Four of the soldiers were seriously wounded.

HARD LUCK.

"That was a pretty hard doctor's bill I had to pay."

"How was that?"

"You see it was for injuries received by being thrown from a horse I was riding by the doctor's advice."—[New York Sun.

FELL DEAD ON THE STREET

State Senator Reuben Jones Dies Suddenly in Atlanta.

He Represented the Ninth District in the General Assembly.

The Georgia state senate chamber is in mourning. One of the oldest and wealthiest members, Senator Reuben Jones, died suddenly Monday morning in Atlanta.

Senator Jones was not present when the senate convened, being detained at the bedside of his aged mother who was very ill. A seat in the senate was drawn for him and when he arrived he expressed his thanks.

He represented the ninth district, composed of the following counties: Calhoun, Early and Baker. His home was in Newtop, Baker county. He was a consistent and prominent member of the Methodist church, and was actively engaged in Sunday school work for twenty-eight years. He served in the state senate in the years 1871-4. He was elected to serve again a few months ago. The late Primus Jones, of Georgia, was one of his brothers.

Physicians state that heart or brain disease was the probable cause of death.

TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

Of Three Swimmers in a River of Burning Oil.

A Philadelphia dispatch says: The Schuylkill river at Point Breeze, is always covered with a thin scum of oil from adjacent oil works, and since the oil fire there Sunday, more than the usual quantity has been floating on the surface. Tuesday evening three young men started from the eastern shore at Point Breeze in a rowboat to cross the river. When about 150 feet from the shore, one of the men lighted his pipe and carelessly tossed the blazing stick into the water. As the match fell into the water, a burst of flames shot up alongside the skiff, and almost instantly the surface of the river around the boat was blazing fiercely. The flames of burning oil licked the gunwales of the light craft, and the men, realizing that it would be quickly consumed, plunged into the burning fluid around them and started to swim ashore. One of them succumbed to the flames and sank. The other two succeeded in reaching the shore, though they were horribly burned and may die.

The fire in the meantime had spread down the river and the wrecking steamer Maryland, which was lying in the stream working to raise the burned bark Felix, caught fire, and before she could steam out of the fire, she had been damaged to the extent of $15,000. Streams of water from several engines and tugs finally put the burning oil out.

FEDERAL SUPERVISORS

Wanted by Populists and Republicans of Richmond and Wilkinson Counties.

Petitions from republicans and third party men in Wilkinson and Richmond counties (Ga.) have been furnished to Judge Pardee, of the United States court, asking for the appointment of federal inspectors to "guard and scrutinize the congressional election" next month. That petition bears the signature of well-known republicans and third partyites, and was forwarded to Judge Pardee by District Attorney Marion Erwin, who vouches for the genuineness of the papers, as is his duty.

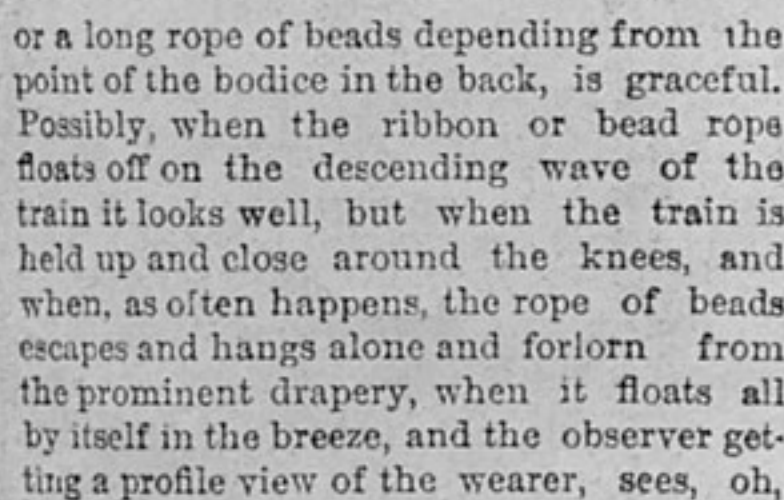

Judge Pardee has acted promptly upon this petition and has called on Chief Supervisor Beckett, in Savannah, to hold himself in readiness. He has also ordered Judge Emory Speer, of the Augusta district, to open court in the southern district of Georgia to appoint federal inspectors. The judge's order is as follows:

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT, Fifth Judicial District, New Orleans, October 24.—H. H. King, Clerk of United States Circuit Court, Savannah, Ga.—My Dear Sir: Enclosed find petitions from Wilkinson and Richmond counties in the southern district of Georgia for the appointment of supervisors of election and deputy United States marshals which please file in your office at proper place and notify chief supervisor of southern district of Georgia thereof. Also notify him and perhaps you can convey the same information to the newspapers, that I have designated Judge Speer to open court in the southern district of Georgia for election purposes in order to appoint supervisors of elections as contemplated by the statutes of the United States.

Very truly yours, DON A. PARDEE.

The Time For Capes.—Be Careful to Avoid Giving a Darwinian Suggestion.

V has a double collar, quilted and sewn back onto the U, which is fastened in front. The edge of the cape is ornamented by a ruche of scalloped cloth. The collars are edged with black velvet. The cloth V is trimmed with velvet ornaments which are sewn on. You will observe that it has no dangling ribbons. That is a whim already by gone. It is doubtful if under any circumstances the fashion of a brace of ribbons

STYLISH DINNER GOWN.

Heaven! daylight between the dependent ornament and the wearer, then what does it look like? Why, nothing but a tail. The fashion might delight a Darwin's soul, but in the ordinary human the suggestion of monkey ancestry is clearly enough set forth by the general wearer without this particular advertisement.

INDOOR GOWN.

The prevailing modes this fall will undoubtedly continue to draw inspiration from the early and late French epochs. For young girls nothing could be more becoming than the empire gown, somewhat modified to suit modern nations. For other persons the Henry II collarette, plastron and upper sleeves in four puffs will be much affected.

The very stylish dinner gown pictured in the illustration is in beige cloth, the corsage and border of skirt being embroidered with motives in terra-cotta. A lace bertha is crossed in front and drawn over the hips and tied in a large bow at the back.

This winter ladies who take pleasure in entertaining will dispense their hospitality in the guise of luncheons, which have this advantage that they serve to display the beauty of table linen and service quite as effectually as a ceremonious dinner, but don't cost half as much, and are a great deal more enjoyable. As a rule at these luncheons the gentlemen are conspicuous by their absence, a fact which prompts the hostess to make the affair dainty, delicate and refined. The skirt being finished in deep lace or ribbon, the gown suitable for such an occasion is shown in the picture. The picture shows a gown showing all glancing effects. The picture shows a gown showing all glancing effects. The picture shows a gown showing all glancing effects. The picture shows a gown showing all glancing effects.

Lace garniture will continue to be very popular for indoor gowns, in the shape of tiny figaros and broad collars, as shown in the picture. This charming garment, which is in the nature of a tea or reception gown, is in yellow satin, front and sleeves of white crepe, and ribbon ruching to correspond with the satin. The skirt in front is edged with a double flounce of point d'esprit tulle, and the flounce is set off with a deep collar of cream lace.

Of Hiawassee And The Country Around Us.

Being desirous of posting parties regarding our magnificent country—its surroundings, society, climate, water, lands, timber, mineral, etc., we have written the following, setting forth in a brief and concise manner, a few of the many advantages with which our country is blessed.

We ask all persons, whether contemplating a visit or permanent settlement here or not, to read carefully what we have written, and if you are desirous of learning more, write to THE TIMES, and all ascertainable information will be cheerfully given.

We invite immigration, and assure all who come, hearty welcome. Nature has been bountiful to our section and has done as much for us as for any people on the globe—but we await the influx of population, men and women who can and will supply money, labor, enterprise and general industry, to come and assist in cultivating our lands, utilizing the water powers, working the mineral deposits, and building up our section as one of the most delightful summer or winter resorts in the world.

TOWNS COUNTY

Is situated in the North-eastern portion of the state and bounded on the east by Rabun county, on the south by White county, on the West by Union county and on the north by the North Carolina line. Its water courses consist in innumerable streams and mountain torrents, which flow into the main stream of the county—the Hiawassee river which flows through the entire length of the county. Along the river the low land is very rich and most excellently adapted to the production of corn and wheat, while the hundreds of mountain valleys are exceedingly fertile, yielding corn, wheat, oats, rye, and especially suited to grass growing, which taken in connection with the many inexhaustable streams of pure, wholesome water, and the pure, dry mountain air, make them most excellent for the raising of horses, mules, cattle and sheep, and the woods being full of chestnuts, acorns and other mast making it a fine hog raising country.

In timber the county is well supplied, having an inexhaustable quantity of oak, poplar, walnut, cherry, ash and many other varieties of the most superior quality.

In minerals, Towns county is exceedingly rich, having inexhaustable beds of iron, manganese, corundum, asbestos, copper, kaolin, gold and galena which is only awaiting the advent of the capitalist and miner to open and develop it.

HIA WASSEN

Is the county site of Towns county, and is situated within one-fourth of a mile of the Hiwassee river, about 36 miles from Clarksville, nearest point to the Richmond & Danville railroad, and about 24 miles from Murphy, the terminus of the Marietta & North Georgia railroad; and is a prosperous little city with good society, churches and an elegant school—The Hiwassee High School—with a splendid corps of teachers. Hiwassee possesses many advantages over other towns. No whiskey is sold in the county and the town is quiet, orderly and peaceable, having no callaboose nor any need for one. The Hiwassee river affords ample opportunity for bathing, boating, or fishing and presents fine water powers. The woods near town are full of small game and afford splendid hunting grounds. Nestling in the beautiful picturesque mountain district of North Georgia, it is protected from the extreme chilly blast of winter, while in the hot summer months, the cool breezes make it a most pleasant summer resort. New houses are being rapidly built and everything points to a prosperous future.

Young Harris is a new town in the county located near the line dividing Union and Towns counties, 8 miles from Hiawassee and 17 miles from Murphy, N. C., its nearest railroad point. The Young Harris Institute located there has gained much popularity throughout the state as an educational institution. Young Harris is a booming little town and has a prosperous future in store for it.

Blairsville is the county site of Union county, 16 miles from Hiawassee and 14 miles of Nottla, its nearest point on the Marietta & North Georgia Railroad. It is surrounded by a fine farming country, has two weekly newspapers, good hotel accommodations, churches and schools, and is, in fact a thriving country town.

Hayesville is the county site of Clay county, N. C., 8 miles from Hiawassee and 16 miles from Murphy, its nearest railroad point. It is in the midst of a fine farming section, has a weekly newspaper, good hotels, churches, and a fine school—The Hayesville Male and Female College.

Murphy is the county site of Cherokee county, N. C., and is a prosperous thrifty town with first class hotel accommodations, one weekly newspaper, churches, schools and everything that goes to make up a prosperous booming town.

Clayton is the county site of Rabun county and is 27 miles from Hiawassee, 85 miles from Clarksville, its nearest railroad station. It is well supplied with everything that is required to run a hustling little country town.

Cleveland is the county site of White county situated in the midst of a fine farming country, 28 miles from Hiawassee and 15 miles from Lula, its nearest point on the Richmond & Danville railroad. It has a good weekly newspaper, churches, hotels, etc., and is a first-class town.

The Sabbath School Convention of the Hiawasee Association met with the Shady grove church and Sabbath school in Clay county, N. C., Saturday October 29, 1892.

Some of the speakers appointed by the Association were not present, but the convention went on with its work and organized by electing Rev. S. Ezell, Moderator and V. M. Caler, Secretary.

L. V. Swanson and L. H. McConnell were then appointed reading clerks and the reports of the different Sabbath schools read. A few of the schools send oral reports.

L. H. McConnell, M. L. Smith and J. P. Evans were appointed a committee on preaching. G. W. Fleming, Wm. Wilson and John D. Corn on nomination.

The convention then took up the program and discussed the questions in order.

The 1st question viz: "The moral influence of a Sunday School," was opened by G. W. Fleming and the discussion continued by V. M. Caler, J. J. Kimsey, and W. G. Blackwell.

The 2nd question; "Will the Sunday School impoverish the church in any way?" Was opened by Rev. S. Ezell, and further discussed by W. G. Blackwell and G. W. Fleming.

Third question. "Has God made the church responsible to teach the Scriptures to the people?" Discussed by W. G. Blackwell, J. J. Kimsey and S. Ezell. Then the sisters who had conducted themselves very well through the meeting and given good attention communicated with Brother Fleming in some way that it was time to go home. So the body left the last question of the program for the mass-meeting Sunday morning and adjourned, after hearing the following reports of committees.

Committee on nominations report the next session of the body to be held with the Union church, Towns county, Ga., beginning Friday night before the 5th Sunday in April 1893. Introductory sermon to be preached Friday night by Rev. J. J. Kimsey, Rev. W. A. Swanson alternate.

Preaching committee report V. M. Caler to preach at night. Rev. W. G. Blackwell Sunday morning.

Sunday morning mass-meeting opened about 9 a. m. The question, "how is the most successful way to run a Sunday school?" Opened in mass-meeting by Wm. Wilson, followed by speeches from W. G. Blackwell and V. M. Caler.

Preaching at 11 a. m. by Rev. Blackwell from Rom. 1 16-18

The large school house in which the convention met was filled with an attentive and well-behaved audience both Saturday and Sunday.

Those Shady grove people know just how to make you feel that you are doing them the greatest favor imaginable, by going with them and enjoying their hospitality at their homes or eating your fill of the well prepared dinner spread in the grounds. V. M. CALER, Secretary.
